Forrest (New Zealand) Wine Dinner Monday 01 June at Mom Tri's Boathouse Regatta at RPM

Family owned and operated, Drs John and Brigid Forrest are 'Forrest', a small, 'hands-on' producer of premium quality white wine from their home vineyards in Marlborough. In partnership, they produce the Cornerstone Bordeaux red from their vineyard in the Gimblett Gravels Region of Hawkes Bay and premium Pinot Noir from their vineyards in Bannockburn and Waitaki Valley, Otago.

Leaving behind careers in molecular biology and medicine John and Brigid returned to Marlborough in 1988 to establish their first vineyard at Renwick - in the heart of the stony Wairau River Valley.

Blending art and science to make wines of the highest quality and purity, the first Forrest wine, Vintage 1990, had immediate success with a trophy at the national wine awards - success that has been repeated many times both nationally and internationally over the subsequent vintages.

According to the Forrests, grape growing and winemaking is an exacting science however it must have the artistic touch to give the wines 'soul'. That individual expression of style is the trademark of their wines - rich aromatic white wine, and powerfully scented reds - all impeccably structured and a joy to drink.

Numerous awards, accolades and reports on the famous Forrest wines can be found at <http://www.forrest.co.nz/accolades.asp>

Forrest - Sauvignon Blanc - Marlborough – 2007

Peter Bourne, Sydney Morning Herald, March 2008 “John Forrest’s 2007 shows aromatic notes of guava, passionfruit and rockmelon, with just a hint of sweet dried herbs and grapefruit. It has a rich mid-palate texture and a bright and juicy finish. Immensely drinkable.”

Newton Forrest Cornerstone Cabernet-Merlot-Malbec 2002 Gourmet Traveller Wine June/July 2006 – 91 points
