

Mom Tri's Boathouse Writer's Night with Collin Piprell

Tuesday 13 May 2008 from 19.00 – 20.30 h.

Mom Tri's Boathouse Writer's Night with Collin Piprell is the second in a series of Writer's Nights, which started last month with the spirited performance of author Jake Needham.

Collin Piprell (www.collinpiprell.com) is a novelist, feature writer, journalist, and editor, both freelance and in-house with Dragon Art Media. His books include adventure, thrillers, humour and science fiction. He's a Canadian, educated in the U.K., resident in Bangkok and well traveled in Southeast Asia.

Collin decided to talk about "Seducing the Muse" for a reason: "Half the people I know say that, someday, they want to write something. Most people never do. This talk aims to encourage those who'd like to write."

He will focus on

- a) Where ideas come from;
- b) Psychological hurdles for new (and veteran) writers; and
- c) A strange phenomenon he calls the "Muse Effect".

The evening will start at 19.00 h. in the Boathouse Island Lounge. Entrance is free and beverages are available at special "Writer's Prices". If you would like to attend this evening, send an e-mail to pr@boathousephuket.com.

The Boathouse has confirmed Jim Newport (www.vampireofsiam.com) for a Boathouse Writer's Night on Wednesday 13 August.
